The New Steamboat Company.
The stockholders of the Vanceburg, Manchester and Maysville Packet Company held their regular meeting at Vanceburg on Saturday, the 1st inst., and organized the company. The capital stock was very fully represented at the meeting and the following officers of the company were elected for the ensuing year:

President—David Gibson.
Vice President—H. C. Bruce.
Secretary—George W. Sulser.
Treasurer—T. J. Henry.
Superintendent—H. M. Redden.

The new steamboat of the company is now in process of construction by the Covington Marine Way Co., and will be finished and enter the trade in place of the steamer Handy, November 1st. She will be a handsome, stylish, fast steamer, handsomely furnished, with every convenience and comfort that the traveling public and shippers may require. The fact that Commodore David Gibson and the Redden Brothers, old and experienced steamboat men, are connected with the enterprise, will insure its success. The name of the new steamer, we learn, will be Daisy, and that she will be all the name implies.

Let him visit the Maysville fair and we will guarantee he will not be disappointed.

A HORSE attached to a phaeton belonging to Mr. Charles H. White became frightened yesterday on the street and ran away. The occupants of the vehicle escaped uninjured. The phaeton was badly broken up.

THE crowd in attendance at Barnum's circus at Lexington is estimated at 25,000. During the day it is thought at least 50,000 persons were in the city. The circus people must have received a good impression of what a Kentucky mob is.

ON Saturday night about ten o'clock John McDaniel and James Fisher had a misunderstanding with Thos. Kirtland, in East Maysville, and the latter was badly beaten by them. During the difficulty Kirtland drew a pistol and shot McDaniel in the fleshy part of the arm. SAMUEL BULGER, who has been receiving religious instruction for some time past from the Catholic clergy of this city, was baptized yesterday morning at ten o'clock, in his cell at the jail, by Rev. J. B. Glorieux, in the presence of the jailer and Mr. Patrick Fox. He will receive Holy Communion to-morrow morning about seven o'clock, after which he will partake of breakfast, and receive such persons as he desires shall be admitted to his cell. He will then be removed to the room in the second story of the building, and be prepared for his execution. He will be attended on the scaffold by Revs. Fathers Glorieux and Gaffey. Bulger is in good health, and is seemingly calm. He expresses himself as prepared for death, and does not think he will break down at the last minute. The execution will take place as near noon as possible.

Success on the Stage.
Nat. Goodwin writes the Spirit: "I have had no time to struggle with grammar and join McCullough and the other great tragedians in the North American Review in publishing my views on the subject of 'Success on the Stage.' To a beginner I should advise one of two things: First—he may join a good old stock company, if he can find one in the woods anywhere, and remain a member of it for about forty years. By that time he will have so worked himself up as to receive a living salary, support stars, and be prepared for a testimonial on his fiftieth anniversary, whacking up with the manager, of course. This reward of merit virtually amounts to a half clear benefit every fifty years. If very healthy and successful, an actor may catch two of them and die. Second—if the beginner does not fancy that way, he can join some variety show; purchase a sparkling comic song from some good writer; have it set to music; get W. Carleton, Charles Gayler, Macdonald or McClosky to write a plot around the song, and he will be engaged for a forty weeks' season, and maybe longer, at a high salary. But if the beginner take the second way, he must never own that success was easy. I find that all the really great actors, who have been boosted to the top of the tree by chance, notoriety, or money, are very fond of referring to their days and nights of toil and struggle, and of hinting how very hard they work now. I have had those toils and struggles and hard work myself; but it was generally after the performance was over, and I might better have been at home in bed. The midnight oil theory is beautiful; but I never saw it in practice—did you? It is so easy to study and struggle when you feel the Bank of California at your back. I believe that an actor should study acting; attend to his business like other people; enjoy himself like other people, and, when he draws a prize in the lottery of the profession, thank Heaven for it, endeavor to deserve it, and keep quiet about the price of midnight oil, and his wrestles with the wick. The Review may copy, if you please."

Leonard Huxley, the eldest son of Prof. Huxley, has taken the highest honor in classical studies at Oxford.

HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian
HAIR RENEWER
was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfillment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction. The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.
